

Leaders:

How to make your next employee meeting meaningful and memorable

11 quotes that will inspire you to inspire your people

You're a savvy, experienced leader, so you know that major employee meetings—town halls, all-hands sessions, internal conferences—are not just about presenting information. In fact, these events need to enlighten employees and encourage them to take action.

Need to take your next internal communication meeting to a new level? Here are 11 quotes that provide advice and inspiration:

“A leader is one who knows the way, goes the way, and shows the way.”

John C. Maxwell

“Listening is such a simple act. It requires us to be present, and that takes practice, but we don't have to do anything else. We don't have to advise, or coach, or sound wise. We just have to be willing to sit there and listen.”

Margaret J. Wheatley

MEANINGFUL

“If you can't explain it simply, you don't understand it well enough.”

Albert Einstein

MEMORABLE

“They may forget what you said, but they will never forget how you made them feel.”

Carl W. Buechner

“The whole purpose is to enable people to learn. Your mission is not to transmit information but to transform learners.”

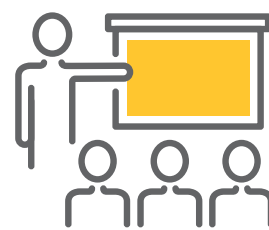

Harold D. Stolovitch and Erica J. Keeps

“You teach me, I forget. You show me, I remember. You involve me, I understand.”

Edward O. Wilson

“Make sure you have finished speaking before your audience has finished listening.”

Dorothy Sarnoff

“A great presentation gives smart ideas an advantage.”

Nancy Duarte

“A boss says, ‘go and make sure you do it; a leader says, ‘let's go and make it happen.’ Bosses control people; leaders involve them.”

Israelmore Ayivor

“No one can remember more than three points.”

Philip Crosby

“Performance is not about getting your act together, but about opening up to the energy of the audience.”

Benjamin Zander

For more information about employee communication, visit us at www.davisandco.com/services

