

3 easy virtual meeting features to enhance employee recognition

Let's celebrate our successes—big and small!

With employee appreciation celebrations being canceled for more than a year, colleagues lack the recognition they deserve. That's why there's no better time to leverage virtual meetings to thank your team members for their contributions.

Here are 3 ways you can use web meetings to create a meaningful experience for employees:

1 Play some tunes

Upbeat music can set the tone for a positive atmosphere. Use it to make a winning playlist to match your team's winning spirit.

Check out Spotify to create a playlist for your next recognition event.

	Song	Artist
▶	All Star	Smash Mouth
2.	Best Day of My Life	American Authors
3.	Happy	Pharrell Williams

2 Create a personalized experience

Whether it's hand-written or typed, a personalized 'thank you' can go a long way toward boosting employee morale.

Check out Mural.com to build your own wall of gratitude.

3 Host an engaging activity

There's no better way to celebrate your colleagues' achievements than catering your activities to what they enjoy—like a friendly competition.

Use the polling features in PollEverywhere or Mentimeter to create a trivia game or quiz and pump some energy into your event.

What's one thing Laura can't live without?

We could all use a reason to celebrate right now!
